A Singular Coincidence.-It comes as a rather singular coincidence that in the present freshman class (1900) of Dartmouth college there are four young men, from different localities, whose fathers and grandfathers were for many years either active business or professional men or well-known young men in St. Johnsbury. The students are Walter Poland Rankin of Boston, H. H. Hastings of Nashua, N. H., and Paul G. and John C. Redington of Evanston, Itl. Their fathers were Andrew E. Rankin, Lemuel Hastings and E. D. Redington and their well-known grandfathers were Hon. L. P. Poland, Lambert Hastings, E. C. Redington and Ephraim Chamberlin. Besides being in the same class, they have joined the same fraternity. A. Byron will spend the children of the Sunday School. There were thirty numbers and the participants reflected credit on themselves and their instructor, Mrs. Marshall. It was one of the best concerts yet given by this school. The choir assisted in the music. and special mention should be made of solos by Mrs. H. K. Ide and Mrs. Mc-Millan. Supt. Bailey made a few remarks of a complimentary character, and he may well feel proud of his school.

In the morning the pastor preached to a large congregation on "The Manger." The choir rendered special music, of which many laudatory remarks were heard at the close of the service. Fred Brooks presided for the first time at the organ and played with his well-known skill and good taste. He is to be the permanent organist at this church.

Y. II. C. A. News .- Rev. P. S. McKillop of St. Albans addressed a large audience of men at the meeting last Sabbath. There were solos by Joseph Morse and the association orchestra led the singing. The gymnasium and bath rooms are undergoing repairs and will be in good condition for use when class work begins, Monday, Dec. 28.

Raising the Debt .- The North church

raised a debt of $1200 last Sunday morning in about as short a time as it takes to tell the story. After the opening exercises Dr. Heath rose to preach the sermon and said he had left his sermon at home and would preach without notes that morning. He then briefly outlined the financial condition of the church and called upon Judge W. P. Smith, as chairman of the business committee, to make a detailed report. Judge Smith spoke of the financial stringency of the past year and said that owing to this and other causes the church would close the year about $1200 in debt. Dr. Heath then advanced to the pulpit and said he was going to spring a surprise upon the congregation and instead of preaching any more with or without notes the people were going to be asked to furnish the notes-bank notes. He then asked all who wanted a $100 blessing to give that amount towards the debt. One gentleman started the ball rolling and two ladies quickly followed with similar amounts. The fourth $100 came a little slower, but the pastor kept the interest up by generously contributing this amount himself. Then the subscriptions were reduced to $50 and in a very few minutes several of these were pledged The pastor asked for $25 next and there was a generous response to this call. When the fifteen-dollar pledges had been reached only $300 more was left unsubscribed and before the people had finished subscribing $10 the debt was raised When the amount pledged had reached $1120 one member of the church said he would give enough to make it $1200 and after some applause the audience sang the doxology and the meeting was closed. The service, as one stranger remarked to the writer, "was better than any ser mon he ever heard," and much of the success of the enterprise was due to the enthusiasm and tact of the popular pastor of the church.

A Holiday Wedding .- A marriage of much local interest was celebrated Tuesday at "The Bluffs," the home of the bride's parents, when Miss Martha, daughter of Chief Judge Ross, became tendent of the National Fish Hatchery here and one of the state commissioners took place at high noon in the presence of relatives and a few intimate friends, Miss Margaret Howell of Rutland was maid of honor, little Miss Margaret Hazen serving as bridesmaid and Lucius K. Hazen as best man. Miss Beth Bailey of Scituate, Mass., and Master Edward Stafford of this town were ushers.

The bride was most becomingly gowned in Lincoln green broadcloth with trimmings of Persian lamb, braid and buttons. The prevailing colors of the tasteful house decorations were green and white, the holly and mistletoe receiving the prominence due the holiday season. A wedding breakfast was served to the guests among whom were Miss Titcomb, Mrs. Howell and Miss Howell of Rut-Louis Selle land; Mrs. George Titcomb of Concord, Mass.; Henry L. Bailey and wife of Scituate, Mass.; Dr. A. C. Aldrich of Somerville and Mr. Berry of Lynn, Mass.; Mrs. T. N. Vail of Lyndon Center and Mr. and Mrs. Scott Sloane of Woodsville, N. H. After a short trip Mr. and Mrs. Titcomb will be at home Thursdays in February. The bride has been prominent in the so cial, educational and church life of the village and Mr. Titcomb is well-known throughout the state in connection with terests. Both have many warm friends whose good will and affection were shown in the many beautiful gifts re-

Dr. Prevost's House Burned .- The fire alarm sounded at 6.30 last Sunday morning for a fire in Dr. C. A. Prevost's new house on Railroad street. As everybody was askeep it was some time before the department responded. The Railroad street company were first on the scene of action and could not reach the house with their hose. The other companies carry more hose and when the rest arrived several streams were turned on. The fire had got quite a start by this time and before it was controlled the upper story was burned away and the lower story flooded with water. Napoleon Corriveau occupied the upper story and lost a valuable piano. Dr. Prevost saved most of his furniture, but the lower story was badly damaged. He carried $2500 insurance on his house with Crawford Ranney and $1000 on the furniture with Mr. Switser. The insurance will cover his loss and he will rebuild as soon as it is adjusted. The fire caught from the chimney in someunknown way.

Turkey vs. Crackers and Cheese. -A contest is about to begin in the Y. M. C. A., but it will be a friendly one. It is expected, however, that a number of captives will be taken. Membership contests have been very popular among the associations during the last year. In Worcester 1000 new members were added in a month. Manchester, N. H., secured 400 in a short time, Nashua, Rutland, and Sherbrooke Associations have just ended very successful contests.
